

MORNING H.E.

EARLY-CLOSING ASSOCIATION.—A public meeting, on behalf the Early-Closing Movement, was held at the Darlinghurst Court-house, last evening. There was not a very large attendance. The chair was occupied by Mr. J. Wymne, M.L.A., who, in opening the meeting, and that the object of holding the meeting was to assist the committee of the Early-Closing Association in their efforts to induce the employers of labour to give their employees opportunities for formal and informal education. The association was established in April last, and already there were nearly 200 members on the roll, and nearly one hundred shopkeepers had consented to close their shops at an earlier hour than they had hitherto done. This was an age of combinations; and he was pleased that this association had joined with other societies in working for the good of mankind. He was glad the clergy were so ready to assist in this movement, and he was glad that appeal had been so nobly responded to, for he believed that to the influence of the clergy was due a great deal of the success that had already been achieved. On behalf of the association, he thanked those shopkeepers who had already complied with the request which the society had made, and he trusted that other employers of labour would do the same, so that the success of the association might be complete. He concluded by appealing to the Indian to assist in the movement by doing their shopping before 6 o'clock in the evening. The honorary secretary, Mr. W. L. Lewis, then made a report, the substance contained in which has already been published.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan moved the first resolution,—"That hundreds of young men and women in this city are now unemployed in various trades from a want of opportunity to work at night, and on Saturdays, in many cases, till nearly midnight; and that in the opinion of this meeting no necessity exists for the present to extend the hours of labour." He spoke to the resolution in earnest, and forcible language, contending that there was no occasion for working men and women deferring their purchases until a late hour of the evening. He had heard it said that those engaged in shop-work did not work hard, and consequently that long hours of labour were not so injurious to them, as was the case with those engaged in other kinds of labour. But he contended that those employed in shops—often close, ill-ventilated rooms—did downright hard work to perform, and that he could remark by several examples. He earnestly implored all

He inspired well by their fellow men and women, to come forward and the Earl of Shaftesbury, who had been working it had in hand. The Rev. G. Martin assumed the resolution. In doing so he appealed to the public to take up their early closing campaign at once, and during the daylight, instead of by candlelight; if the public did this, the question would be practically settled, for shopkeepers could not keep open after dark there were no customers. He thought it was a very small thing to ask, but the people were seeking for, and he pointed out a few of the social and physical reasons why the objection to the proposition should be carried out. The resolutions were carried by acclamation. The Rev. T. Johnson moved,—"That the present late-hour system tends greatly to undermine the constitution of the nation, and deprives them of many opportunities of social enjoyment and mental improvement, and totally unfit them for attending religious services on the Sabbath day." With regard to the first resolution, he thought it had at once added much to the cause. There was, he considered, too great a strain on the body as it was.

quently enforced upon the labourer, and he earnestly and vigorously protested against the necessity for their ceasing to do shopping at a late hour on Saturday nights, and to refrain from patronising those shops which kept open till midnight. He thought it was a matter which ought seriously to be brought before the people who made purchases and upon whom those who sold, in the neighbourhood, were engaged in the business establishments ought to leave their hours of labour shortened, so that they might have opportunity of enjoying their homes, improving their minds, cultivating their fraternal interests and bringing good citizens, good servants, and good Christians, to spend their duty on earth, and enjoy the Divine favour at the same time. Mr. Howard said that the carmin, and pointed out the evil effects of sedentary occupations upon the minds and constitutions of those engaged in them, and especially those who were employed in the hours, so many in this city were. On both social and economical grounds, he exhorted the people to make that the ladies would form themselves into an early closing association by pledging their honour, as women, not only to refuse to shop until 6 o'clock at night, but to refuse also to trade with those who kept their shops open until 6 o'clock at night. The motion was carried unanimously. The Rev. H. S. King moved, "That this meeting, in view of the facts brought before you, cordially approves of the ladies forming a band to obtain a reduction of the present long hours of labour, and pledges itself to support this great social reform by never shopping after 6 o'clock at night." The mover, he thought, when thinking men began to see that for the good of society the poor should not be crushed by the desires of the rich, should have said, "I believe that the servant should never be crushed by the master in order that he may become rapidly rich; it would inevitably produce a state of things which would cause an upheaval in our society. And the only way counteract this is to enable men content to work and labour by making them all enjoy life whilst they worked and laboured." Mr. John Stewart, who presided, seconded the motion.

valued amongst other things, that eight hours honest labour ought to be sufficient for giving all the comforts and necessities of life. The audience was very numerous. A vote of thanks was given to the chairman, and the meeting terminated.

NEW SOUTH WALES DEFENCE CORPS.—As was intimated last week, the officers to take command of the permanent force were appointed, and the recruits were sworn in on Monday the work of swearing in recruits for the Infantry and Artillery commenced. On that day, at 10 o'clock, a number of applicants for the Infantry were specified and passed by Colonel Richardson, and signed the usual attestation to-day before Captain Fitzsimons, of the Infantry, and Captain Ayles of the Artillery. Before enrolling the recruits were subjected to a medical examination by Dr. Bedford, jun. Up to 4 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, twenty-five men joined the Infantry, sixteen in the Artillery, and nine swore in the Cavalry. Altogether will be required. Of the Infantry eighteen recruits have enlisted, and there were sworn in, making a total of thirty, the number of recruits being the number of recruits enlisted or sworn in is now fifty-five, and a good many who have offered themselves are still undergoing medical examination. I have seen as a soldier, the men look well, and several we believe have seen active service. The following is the oath of engagement to be taken by recruits upon being sworn in:—

 "I, _____, do swear that I will be true to my truly serene Sovereign Lady the Queen, in the for the term of _____ years, or until sooner lawfully dismissed, or removed, or discharged, and I will be her Majesty's enemies, and cause her Majesty's cause to be kept, both on land and sea, and that I will, in all matters appertaining to my service, faithfully discharge my duty according to law—So help me, God!"

ENTERTAINMENT TO THE SAILORS OF THE CUNAROA.—An entertainment was given on Monday afternoon, on board the Netherlands ship Cunaroa, by Mr. W. B. Palmer, of the W. B. Palmer & Co.

Netherlands, together with his deputy, several officers from the English and French ships of war now in the port, and about fifty ladies and gentlemen were invited, by invitation of Mr. Peeling and Captain Benier. The entertainment to the sailors comprised a programme of negro acrobatics by a company from St. James's Hall, interspersed with selections of music by the German band. The evening was performed a couple of farces, to the evident amusement of their brother tars. About 4 o'clock all hands were piped to the refreshment room, and in a few minutes the clatter of the knives and forks was the only sound that could be heard. The good things provided by the kindness and generosity of the Marine Hotel and having been duly partaken of, that gentleman's health was drunk until loud cheers, and he was afterwards drawn around the deck in a coach improvised for the occasion by the happy men. After a day of brilliant entertainment the proceedings were brought to a close shortly before 6 o'clock by the band playing the National Anthem.

CONCLUSION.—On Monday, at the invitation of the Hon. the Attorney-General, Messrs. G. F. Fisher, Mayor, and members and officers of the Netherlands steam stoppage, Curragh, Mr. F. Macnaul, Consul for the Netherlands, and one or two other gentlemen, proceeded by railway as far as the Lithgow Valley Zigzag, to witness the feat. After spending a few hours in looking over this triumph of engineering skill the party were entertained at luncheon, and returned to Sydney in the evening, well pleased with their visit.

MR. ANTHONY TROLLOPE.—This gentleman, who arrived yesterday morning from Melbourne by the Jungahin, left in the City of Brisbane, in the afternoon, for Queensland.

NEW ZEALAND.—Via Melbourne we have news to July 28th, brought by the Ottenburgh. Intelligence from Charleston under date July 24 says:—“There were tremendous gales and heavy rains last night and week, doing considerable damage. A whirlwind in the Nine Valley carried the rigo of a stable across the river, and uprooted several large trees. Another whilvewind, the Brown-le-meece uprooted a great many trees. Edwin Goodall, a miner from Otago, was killed on Wednesday last by a fall of earth in his claim. He was frightfully crushed." From Westport the registry on 17th: "Last night was a wild, wild night of storm. The sea continued its encroachment on the north end of Gladstone Street. The schooner Niall, of 200 tons, from Melbourne, made her appearance in the offing on Saturday morning, but weighed anchor at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and went to sea." The schooner was a barkentine, Captain Le Brun, from Melbourne for Greyouth, with a full cargo, consigned to Greymouth merchants, went where two miles north of Hokitika, and there, at daylight, she was visible on the outer edge of the break, at anchor. Owing to the heavy sea breaking over her she slipped her anchors and drove ashore. No lives were lost. The captain and crew were saved. The cargo of 1,000 tons was sold by auction for £83. It was expected that not half her cargo would be saved, and the vessel was expected to speedily break up. An inquiry into the circumstances of the loss was proceeding when the Gothenburg left. Further news from Hokitika, July 23, says:—"Ottis says Christchurch-road, is much damaged by floods; bridges are swept away, and the repairs will cost several thousand pounds. There has been frightful weather for the last days." The Prosperity, brigantine, from Melbourne, arrived at Hokitika on July 25, after what the captain reported to be the most tempestuous passage he had experimented during the six years he had been on the coast.

AMERICAN ROOMS.

A new and patented invention of August 2nd, 1870, and the first importation to this colony.

In introducing this shipment to the public, the inventor feels himself called upon to point out the great superiority of this manufacture to any hitherto imported, and to submit the following extract from the shipper's certificate:

"PATENT SPIRAL BROOM,

Patented August 2, 1870,

CHANDLER'S ELASTIC BAND,

Patented June 9, 1870.

"We call the attention of our customers to the above improvements, which we shall hereafter use in the manufacture of our Brooms, and also 'Chandler's Patent,' which consists in using vulcanized rubber bands, one or two to each broom, according to its size, the heaviest requiring two of these bands, stitched with twine, in place of sewing the broom through and through with wire or twine.

"The improvement consists in the use of a Spiral Wire

Brace (four each Broom), placed at the ends of the Collar, and extending up the handle from two to four inches, to the end of the brush—the winding wire, running in each loop, securely braces the cross wires and broom on all sides, and renders utterly impracticable any contor-sion of the broom, or unwinding, accomplishing an object long sought for, but never attained until the discovery of this method.

"The power of using rubber bands, in lieu of sewing the brush with twine alone, which we have adopted in connection with the improved broom, is the manufacture of our BROOMS, commands itself to every dealer or householder, and to every person having use for a really GOOD

BROOM, inasmuch as it gives the desired ELASTICITY, making the broom easy and pleasant to use; while at the same time it unquestionably adds to its DURABILITY.

"The continuing power of the rubber bands prevents the brush from becoming loose by use or striking, and being soft and pliable, there is less liability of the brush cracking or breaking, than in the twine or wire sewed broom.

"We cordially submit these brooms to the consideration of
